Overview

UNVEILED: SURVIVING LA LUZ DEL MUNDO explores the horrifying, yet relatively unknown story of the Christian church La Luz del Mundo (LLDM) and the sexual, physical, and psychological abuse that scores of members, many of them minors, have suffered at the hands of its leaders. Told from the point of view of the survivors who initially shared their stories and connected on Reddit, the series chronicles the history of one of the most powerful religious groups not only in Mexico where it was founded, but also in the United States, while giving voice to the men and women who were brave enough to stand up and call out the heinous crimes.

To supplement the documentary and support the audience in deepening their learning and understanding of the documentary's subject matter and the issues discussed in the film, as well providing resources for survivor support, we have highlighted organizations working to combat sexual violence, child abuse, and human trafficking.

Use this Resource Directory as a starting point to better understand the topics addressed in the documentary, and to find support if you, or someone you know, is a survivor of sexual assault, abuse, or grooming.
